IT IS ABOUT TO PLAY OUT

MIRACLE ONLY NOW CAN SAVE MEDIATION

ARGENTINE MINISTER TRYING TO BRIDGE THE GAP BETWEEN MEXICANS AND AMERICANS

Niagara Falls, June 19.—Indications today are that only a miracle can prevent the ending of the mediation conferences in failure. An apparently unbreakable deadlock has developed between the American and Mexican delegates on the demand of the Washington government that a constitutionalist be selected as provisional president of Mexico to succeed Huerta. The Mexicans refused to consider such a proposition, claiming that such an executive would dominate the elections. The Americans deny this and absolutely refuse to recede from their demand, making it as the first condition to any agreement.

The United States has offered to create a bi-partisan commission to take charge of the elections as a guarantee of fair play to all. The Mexicans today prepared a second statement in which they absolutely refuse to accede to the American terms.

A conference of all parties is scheduled for this afternoon.

HE'S WORKING FOR HUERTA

Washington, June 19.—Senator Noan, the Argentine mediator, arrived today and is making a final effort to save mediation from a complete collapse. He will confer with Secretary of State Bryan, and may possibly see President Wilson this afternoon.

So anxious is Senator Noan for the success of mediation, he has ignored the American commissioners at Niagara Falls and is making an appeal to the administration direct.

TRY FOR THE LAST TIME TOMORROW

Niagara Falls, June 19.—The American delegates later notified Minister Noan, in Washington, that the general meeting of the mediators this afternoon had been postponed until tomorrow. It is believed the meeting will not be held, and no further business except the formalities attending the dissolving of the conference will be transacted here.

RUSSIAN BROKE THE RECORD

SIX PASSENGERS FLEW OVER SIX HOURS WITH SIEKORSKI

St. Petersburg, June 19.—Aviator Siekorski made a new aerial record today, flying six hours and thirty minutes and ten seconds in an aeroplane with six passengers.

STEED HAS BEEN STOLEN

SO THE ASTUTE FINANCIAL GROOMS OF CHICAGO WILL NOW LOCK THE DOOR OF THE STABLE

Chicago, June 19.—W. C. Niblack was today appointed receiver of the closed LaSalle Street Trust & Savings Bank. His bond is fixed at $2,500,000. Niblack is president of the Chicago Title and Trust Co.

ACCOUNTS WILL BE INVESTIGATED

A call for a special grand jury to fix responsibility for the looting and wrecking of the bank is expected this afternoon.

William Lorimer, president, and Charles Munday, vice president, and various directors will be permitted to tell their stories provided they waive immunity.

SEVENTH BANK TO BE SHUT

Springfield, Ill., June 19.—The Farmers' State Bank of Bethalto, belonging to the Lorimer chain, was closed by the state bank examiner.

ENTOMBED ALIVE

ESCAPE OF TWO HUNDRED BELGIAN MINERS SHUT OFF

Liege, Belgium, June 19.—Two hundred miners were entombed alive today when fire started in the Vielle-marthe Colliery, caused by an explosion of black damp. There were 400 men in the mine when the explosion occurred, but 200 escaped. Rescuing parties are at work trying to reach the entombed men.

ANOTHER MINE HORROR

TWO HUNDRED MINERS ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE LOST THEIR LIVES

Calgary, Alberta, June 19.—Two hundred miners are believed to have been killed in an explosion in the Hill Crest Colliery here today. Three hundred others escaped.

BIG HAUL FOR BURGLARS

Atlanta, June 19.—Thieves last night robbed the home of Mrs. Rosa Knapp on Georgia avenue, of jewelry valued at $2,000 and a pocket-book with a sum of money. During the absence of the occupants of the house, the burglars cut through the slats of the window blind.

COPING MILLS CONSUMED

Port Henry, N. Y., June 19.—The coping mills Nos. 1 and 2 of the Witherbee-Shonman Iron Ore Co. were burned today. The loss will reach $750,000.

A full line of Spalding baseball goods just in at Gerig's Reliable Drug Stores.

CARRANZA'S SPLIT WITH VILLA COMPLETE

EX-BANDIT MARCHING ON CAPITAL AT HEAD OF HIS ARMY

El Paso, June 19.—The split between Carranza and Villa is complete. Villa is proceeding with his army south toward Mexico City, disregarding General Natera, whose appointment by Carranza as head of the new Central Military Zone evidently caused the breach.

TURKEY TRYING TO BUY A TRANSPORT

Has to Have More Ships if She Scraps with the Hellenes

London, June 19.—Turkish naval officers have arrived in England on a mission for the purchase of coal and transport vessels in preparation for a possible war between Turkey and Greece.

A TEST CASE Of the Bryan Primary Law Will be Made by an Escambia County Candidate

Pensacola, June 19.—The failure to file an expense account of his campaign within ten days after the primary is likely to result in the loss of a lucrative position to N. C. McMillan and incidentally furnish the state one of the most interesting test cases that will have been seen in some time. It is expected that Mr. McMillan, who was nominated to the office of clerk of the court of record by a big vote, will carry the case into the courts. However, his friends are predicting that he will lose the office because the law is specific. The commissioners are prevented from placing his name on the general election ballot under penalty. The governor is also prevented from signing a commission to a nominee under such circumstances.

HE WILL HAVE TO RETURN WITHOUT HIM

Gadsden, Ala., June 19.—A deputy United States marshal arrived today with a warrant for the arrest of William Tidwell, charged with moonshining. Tidwell was killed by Harmon Hill, his moonshine partner, two weeks ago in a quarrel.

HARVARD'S HOPES ARE HIGH

BANKING HEAVY ON THE CRIMSON AGAINST THE BLUE

UNIVERSITY WON BOTH RACES THIS MORNING AND COUNTS ON THE GREAT EVENT THIS AFTERNOON

New London, Conn., June 19.—Fifty thousand visitors from all parts of the United States jammed their way into this quaint little Connecticut town today so that they might watch Yale and Harvard stage their 47th annual regatta on the River Thames.

TOOK THE TWO MILE EVENTS THIS MORNING

Harvard won both two mile events this morning.

ANTICIPATES WINNING VARSITY EIGHT THIS AFTERNOON

The third and last event, the varsity eight, a four mile race will be rowed late this afternoon.

Harvard was the top-heavy favorite in the little betting that took place. Harvard's backers came to town with tons of money, willing to bet it on the crimson crew at almost any odds, but the EH's would have very little of it, at straightaway bets on the results of the races.

The Harvard crew this year looked better on paper than those of last year which simply ran away with the Yale outfit, while the EH's crew of this year, judged by their record to date are no better, if as good, as the 1913 outfits which went down to such an inglorious defeat.

There was perhaps less betting on the outcome of today's river battles than has ever characterized a similar meeting between the rival universities. In other years the "old grads" of EH, no matter how hopeless seemed the chances of the Yale crews, always backed them with a little lucre. But the Yale graduates, disgusted by the shifts made in the rowing system in the past two years, refused today to risk any of their money on the faint chance that Yale had for victory.

However, the Harvard backers were able to get a few bets with the Yale men by offering odds that the Crimson varsity crew would defeat Yale by three or more lengths, and that the Crimson freshmen eight would defeat the Yale freshmen by at least two lengths.

Of course, most of the interest centered in the varsity race which was scheduled for 4:40 this afternoon, but a big crowd rode in the observation trains or sat on the hillsides and watched the freshmen race which was held at 10:45 in the morning.

Members of both crews reported to their coaches early in the morning in good condition. They took a short work-out on the river early in the morning for the purpose of limbering up their muscles.

The one thing that Yale supporters feared most of all was the different styles of rowing that have been taught the men in the past three years might bring about a real confusion in a critical moment. Some of the men in the shell were originally taught the old Bob Cook stroke. Others learned the straight English stroke that Yale tried last year, while the newcomers this year have been drilled in the 1914 stroke, which has been taught them by Coach Nickalls.

Of course the Yale crew this year is rowing only the stroke that Nickalls and his associates have taught them, but it is feared that if the Yale crew should be able to keep within striking distance of the Harvard outfit until near the finish line, they may unconsciously go back to the style of rowing that they first learned when called upon for a final spurt, and that in this way, the crew will be pulling three different kinds of strokes.

Although the largest portion of the crowd came to town this morning on special trains over the New Haven Railroad or via automobile, several thousand arrived last night, packing New London's few hotels and rooming houses. Part of the overflow was accommodated in the private homes of some townspeople, while the rest passed up sleep altogether and spent the night and early morning hours "whooping things up" for their Alma maters.

There was mighty little sleep in this town last night except for those in the somewhat distant section of the city, but New London stages a boat race only once a year and it doesn't seem to get very much peevish when the "old grads" become young again, make so much racket in town that sleep is impossible.

New London has enough restaurants to normally accommodate its population of 22,000 or so, but it could not, despite extensive preparations, accommodate all of the hungry horde that swept down upon the town shortly before the noon hour.

This forced thousands of visitors to choose between going hungry or patronizing the fruit stands and laying in a supply of fruit to partially satisfy the inner man until such time as they could get back to towns where restaurants were more numerous and crowds fewer.

Yale and Harvard were tied in varsity eight oared victories up to today. Since the regatta was inaugurated in 1855 the rival crews have met 46 times, Yale and Harvard each garnering 23 victories. Yale's last victory was in 1907. In the six years since then Harvard has been victorious by fairly wide margins.

Women's Suffrage

When Women are Given the Ballot

They will all own a piece of real estate so they can vote the full ticket. In order that everybody, both men and women, may be in a position to vote, I am going to put on within the next few days the most attractive real estate proposition that has ever been offered in Marion County.
